

Preaching Today

A Clergy Day Presented by Rev. Herbert O'Driscoll

Monday, September 12, 2011

9:00 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Trinity Church: 33 Mercer St., Princeton, NJ

Today men and women who have accepted a call to the responsibility of communicating the Gospel know well that we face many new realities, among them a secular, cynical, and angry society feeling a deep sense of betrayal by its institutions. We know too that the church we love and serve must move from a long assumed maintenance mode to a necessarily mission mode. These and many other new realities we are aware of.

We who dare to exercise a preaching ministry know that, far from being diminished or made irrelevant by these new realities, our preaching vocation is of even greater significance and therefore calls for the highest and best use of the gifts we possess.

This day we will have together is of course inadequate, but then, as we well know, even a lifetime is inadequate to serve the Gospel fully.

Herbert O'Driscoll - Recognized as the best known and one of the most highly regarded preachers in the Anglican Church, Dr. O'Driscoll is a former urban Cathedral Dean in Vancouver, B.C., and former Warden of the College of Preachers, Washington National Cathedral. He is the celebrated author of 30 books, including A Doorway in Time, a reflection of his own Celtic spirituality, and Emmanuel, written while in the Holy Land. In great demand as a speaker and conference leader, O'Driscoll is at once a brilliant scholar and mesmerizing Irish storyteller.

Please join us for this special opportunity.
